Section 1:
- Work with team to figure out who will do what on the storyboard to-do list
- Begin work on "backlog items" on the storyboard
- Finish up work on items under the "doing" section, communicate with the team about the next steps of development.

Section 2:

      This past week I finished my to-do list items. I learned more about data flow and helped develop a data flow diagram for the project. Data flow diagrams provide an easy way for the team to see exactly what goes where with respect to data. I also got to revisit entity-relationship diagrams which help with database planning for our project.

Section 3:
- Finish incomplete items
- Work on further backlog items
- Work on to-do list
